"We had our managers Christmas party at Landing 42 in December 2018 and what a great night it was, so much so that everyone wants to go back again this year. The venue is fantastic, the food was great and the events team are superb! Nothing was too much trouble for them, even on the night when we had a last minute change of timings they took it in their stride and reorganised everything without fuss. The organisation was great from when we first viewed the venue to the last person leaving on the night. A big thank you to the whole team!"

Venn Group

"We held our Christmas party twice already at Landing 42 and we are considering going back. The view is spectacular, the venue is modern, cool and spacious, and the staff have been so professional and easy to work with. One of the best party venues in London!"

Sunrise Brokers

"When it comes to London venues with a view, it's hard to beat Landing Forty Two. As soon as we saw the panoramic views we knew we had found the perfect venue for our client's event. This was our first time working with the venue and it was a great experience. They gave us the freedom to fully transform the space and execute our creative design vision. The catering team were also wonderful to work with both leading up to the event and on event day. Generally the venue and catering teams were both professional, accommodating and attentive. We would love to work at Landing Forty Two again."
